

Gabriel Lagos

Creative Marketing & Brand | Campaigns, Creative Direction & AI

profile

Creative director and brand marketer with 20+ years in the German market, first at Heimat, BBDO, DDB, Serviceplan and Jung von Matt, then independently, creating campaigns for Deutsche Telekom, BMW, Volkswagen, Mercedes-Benz and PlayStation®. I turn global brand stories into work that feels made for Germany and lead creative, social and production partners from brief to launch.

Hands-on with AI every day, I know how to tell its story in human terms: what it does for people, not how it works. Fluent in German and English, native Spanish, and at home in front of senior stakeholders.

Professional Experience

Gabriel Lagos Freelancer

Senior Creative & Marketing Consultant | 2013 – Present

Developed integrated campaigns and launch programmes across digital, social, events and print for enterprise brands in the German-speaking market.

Worked directly with marketing leadership, briefing and steering agency and production teams.

Built narratives and pitch material for complex technology products, combining creative direction with performance data.

Bridged brand strategy and creative execution for global launches and digital transformation initiatives.

Selected clients: Deutsche Telekom, BMW, Mercedes-Benz, Audi, Volkswagen.

make happen GmbH

Founder & Creative Director | 2019 – Current

Led creative direction for campaigns and content, from strategy and concept through production and launch.

Briefed and steered creative, production and freelance partners to keep quality high and delivery on time.

Built AI workflows using n8n, Claude, LLM APIs and generative image and video to speed up concepting and content production.

Defined brand governance models ensuring visual and narrative consistency across markets.

Delivered AI workshops for business owners and leaders at the Handelskammer Hamburg, making AI tangible for non-technical audiences.
